

Fantasy of Companionship between Human and Inanimate

This is a fictional story about the future of companionship between human and inanimate. It tells of a plush Inanimate, with a soul from a baby lion, who craves the new science and technologies of synthetic DNA, artificial intelligence and teleportation, to be an enabled companion, and its soul quantum entangled with its human partner, for eternity. The short animation film is directed by Susan Lim, Samudra Kajal Saikia, Christina Teenz Tan.

Surgeon, scientist, playwright, lyricist, and creative director of a project centered on the future companionship between humans and inanimates, enabled through the new sciences of synthetic DNA, and the technologies of Robotics, Artificial Intelligence and Quantum Physics, to address the global challenge of loneliness and the need for new approaches to companionship in a future world.

